Covid-19 Risk Assessment Statement

We're here for you and are open for business

Atlas Copco are committed to excellence in the management of Safety, Health & Environment (SHE). The health, safety and Well-being of our employees and business partners is our main priority. We set high standards and strive to eliminate hazards and reduce occupational health and safety risks in all our operations.

In line with UK Government guidance, anyone with symptoms, or who has members of their household with symptoms of Covid-19, would self-isolate and where people are able to work from home they are doing so.

Additionally, we are taking the following steps:

- Local, national and global crisis committees who are engaging each other and our external partners to ensure we stay on top of developments.
- Clear international and domestic travel policy, which currently restricts or prevents international travel
- Conducting regular COVID-19 risk assessments and sharing the results with the people who work at each site
- We have additional cleaning, handwashing and hygiene procedures, in line with guidance
- We have taken all reasonable steps to maintain a 2m distance in the workplace
- Where people cannot be 2m apart, we take measures to make sure their work environment is safe
- We have taken all reasonable steps to help people work from home, including:
 - o Understanding individual circumstances of those with different protected characteristics
 - o Determining who can and cannot safely work from home
 - o Promoting safe working practices via DSE assessments for people to work from home safely

These measures are constantly reviewed and updated, guided by current alerts and information from the World Health Organization and national government.

Atlas Copco is a global manufacturer, and as much as this is unprecedented, we have a model which was built in line with agile principles and we proactively work to develop alternative options to enable us to continue to fulfil orders, even during the most challenging of circumstances

Atlas Copco complies with all safety, health and environmental laws and regulations applicable to its operations. In conclusion, our local and global teams are meeting daily. We want to thank you for being a customer and assure you that we are taking every step possible to ensure business continuity.

Please contact us if you have further questions.

Yours sincerely,

Alex Bongaerts
